Perspectives

B2B

Friends of Georgia

Societies of the region

Multidisciplinary sessions -Perspectives- will run during the congress. We would like to provide a rich platform where controversial perspectives from the international societies will be analyzed on the most important uro-oncological diseases.

As the advances in genomic, proteomic and imaging technologies have led to an expansion of our understanding of cancer in general, uro-oncology knowledge and practice is also rapidly evolving. A multi-faceted collaboration among researchers, clinicians, and the industry has emerged. One of the goals of the congress is to discuss these developments in their entirety. In order to address the cutting edge research, translational medicine session will take part in the program. For this reason, the B2B (Bench to Bedside) Renal Cancer Meeting will be held on the first day of the EUA18.

One day scientific event which was organized biannually by Georgian Urological Association and Israel Urological Association will be held during EUA18 in collaboration with EurAsian Association of Uro-oncology.

Tbilisi, Georgia

Georgia's capital is anything but orderly. Despite this - or because of it - it's one of the best, most strikingly original cities in the world.

Tbilisi has come a long way since the beginning of last decade. To Tbilisi's eternal charms of a dramatic setting in the deep valley of the swift Mtkvari River, picturesque architecture, an ever-lively arts and cultural scene, and the welcoming Georgian lifestyle have been added a whole new 21st-century dimension of inviting cafes and restaurants serving ever better food, up-to-date lodgings from backpacker hostels to international five-stars, spruced-up museums, galleries, parks, plazas and whole streets, modernised transport and a sprinkling of eye-catching contemporary architecture. All of which make it a much easier, and more fun, city to visit and live in.
